Are you ready for Grand Slam 100 unit profit? [VIP invitation only]

In case you missed the last month 110 unit Tennis picks, check this out!
Jake has made 110 units ($11,000 based on $100 per unit stakes) on Roland Garros
(previous Grand Slam that we had this year).

We will try to beat that amount this time round, ultimately ending the Grand Slam season with massive profits. I have a lot of confidence that this record will be broken and everyone will walk away with smiles on their faces.

Tennis progression system for Zcode Live Betting developed by Jake and Oisin

The system has been back tested for months and has proven to be profitable. The only problem is choosing the right matches. You have to have certain knowledge in tennis in order to choose the right tennis player to do progression on.

First of all you have to find a match where one of the players will be a clear dominant. You have to bet on him to break his opponent, another words win his opponent's service game. As you may know, tennis is all about winning your own service games and breaking your opponent in order to win the set. Players in the top10 have a great advantage in their own service games, they can also return very well, it's something players from outside of top 50 have a difficulty with when playing against the better players. Essentially males have much stronger service game therefore you will see far less breaking opportunities in male tennis than in female tennis. Then again, the odds will be much higher in ATP than they are in WTA.

Once you choose the right match, start with betting from the first opponent's game. Often players break one another in the very first two games as they aren't fully warmed up and they have to get used to the court. Decide how many units you want to start with and then double the amount once - Remember do the progression only up to the D bet. Starting with 1 unit and ending with 8 unit bet. The system is extremely risky as you may end up losing 15 units. Hence why you have to be extremely careful with how you approach it. Remember, you need to have quite a good knowledge about the tennis players you bet on. You're essentially choosing a player who is the clear favourite to win the whole match.

Once you win your progression, you have to make a decision whether you will continue the progression right after or wait til the next set. All of this comes down to the way your chosen tennis player plays, if he gets close to breaking his opponents each time, you may decide to continue the progression. However in most cases when he won his first 2 games and he gets broken to 2-4 or 2-3, I'd suggest to wait until the next set.

Remember, when you do progressions on odds above 4.00 - You should add 1 unit each time rather than double it as you will end up making profit anyway. This will also lower down the amount of money you can potentially lose if your progression doesn't win.

Also, do not ever choose a progression match based on low odds on the favourite and high odds on the underdog. Your chosen match should be purely chosen on your knowledge and not the given odds. For example, you would have Nadal against Janowicz. We know that the Pole has extremely powerful service game while Nadal usually puts a lot of topspin. Returning 145mph service balls is not easy. Although the odds on Nadal may be 1.05, it is very unlikely he will break Janowicz many times.

Another tip would be to have a big bankroll where you'd be prepared to lay down 15 units.

Where to find the option to bet on certain games?

WTA Linz
	1	2	3	SETS	POINTS
KAROLINA PLISKOVA	5	0		0	30
FRANCESCA SCHIAVONE	7	2		1	30

Game 14 - Francesca Schiavone breaks to 40

WTA Linz Show Streaming

Karolina Pliskova v Francesca Schiavone

Match Winner
Karolina Pliskova	9.00	Francesca Schiavone	1.071

Set 2 Winner
Karolina Pliskova	4.50	Francesca Schiavone	1.18

Point Winner - Point 6, 15th Game
Francesca Schiavone (Svr) to win point 6 in 15th game	1.61	Karolina Pliskova to win point 6 in 15th game	2.20

16th Game Winner
Karolina Pliskova (Svr)	1.61	Francesca Schiavone	2.20

At the bottom you have 16th Game Winner / this is where you bet on a certain player to win the next game. Let's assume you decide to do progression on Schiavone who is winning 2-0 in the 2nd set. You'd bet 1 unit on the 16th game, if she doesn't win then 2 units on 18th game.
